ALASKA CERTIFIED EROSION AND SEDIMENT CONTROL LEAD

STORM WATER MANAGEMENT TRAINING PROGRAM

March 30 & 31 2010	April 8 & 9 2010
Fairbanks, AK	Anchorage AK

STORMWATER BEST MANAGEMENT PRACTICES (BMP) FOR CONSTRUCTION CERTIFICATION (2 DAYS)

This outstanding, 2 DAY training course provides contractors, consultants and regulators with the most current techniques for successfully managing erosion and sediment at construction sites.

This class is recommended for anyone responsible for erosion & sediment control and treatment on a jobsite. Participants will learn how to identify when stormwater treatment is required, what treatment method should be used based on site conditions, when to use physical, mechanical and chemical treatment, and what kinds of treatment are available.

In addition, the newest information on complying with and reporting requirements for federal, state and local regulatory requirements for stormwater is presented in an easy to understand format.

The Alaska Stormwater Steering Committee sanctions this training as satisfying Certified Erosion and Sediment Control Lead certification requirements. The course is endorsed by the Pacific Northwest International Erosion Control Association. Participants completing this class will receive certification as erosion and sediment control leads (AK-CESCL).

Pacific Northwest Chapter International Erosion Control Association

The PNW IECA (Pacific Northwest Chapter of the International Erosion Control Association) is a non-profit organization of professionals who come together to share and educate on issues of Erosion, Sediment and Stormwater Control. Whether you're a Contractor, Engineer, Landscape Architect, State/Federal Employee or Compliance Officer the PNWIECA provides a forum to gather great and valuable information.
